

Knots and Weaves holds opening party at new gallery in Malvern

April 16, 2011 by susan

1. Jim and Kerry Greim opened their new Oriental & Decorative Rug Gallery, Knots and Weaves of Malvern, on Thursday, April 14. Their original store was closed because of a fire that destroyed their business during the Christmas season in December 2010. The new store on Church Street, is only doors away from the one destroyed by fire. The Greims will donate a portion of their sales throughout the "Grand Opening Month" of April 14-May 14 to the Malvern and Paoli Fire Companies who doused the blaze in December. Guests enjoyed fine food provided by Yellow Springs Catering, spirits, live music and a raffle for an Oriental rug. Pictured were (from left) Jim Greim, Clare and Bob Van Dyke, Kerry Greim and her mother Ann Gunn..

7. (From left) Jim Greim, Gigi Masserio and Kathleen Donze paused for a photo during the opening event at the new gallery in Malvern.

8. Kris Flynn (left) and Jamie Bentley (right) joined Maki Evans, president and founder of Cupcakes Gourmet (center) during the opening event.

2. Guests and family members at the opening included (from left) Judy Gross, Rosalie and John Greim and Joe and Loretta Greim.

3. Jim and Kerry Greim (left) chatted with Tom Bentley and Leslie Padilla (right) during the opening celebration at the new Knots and Weaves gallery.

4. (From left) Jim Greim joined Jim Ruggiero and Janice Hoffman during the opening celebration.

5. Charlie Orlando of Yellow Springs Catering was pictured discussing the fabulous food display with Leslie Padilla.

6. Kerry Greim (left) chatted with Jeff Forwood, and Carole and Frank Ortner during the opening celebration event.